Dear Mr Carlini,

I'm writing to you in regard to your band Revamp. I noticed on their invoice that your company is listed as their agent, consequently I'm compelled to bring to your attention just how ecstatic Warner Music was with their performance at our recent 30 year anniversary function.

I believe it's important to emphasise the background so you realise the efforts we went to selecting a cover band for this most prestigious Warner event as we made a decision not to use a rostered artist.

Our A & R team began an extensive 6 week search of the Sydney cover band scene checking out every major venue and cover band. Most of the team was not familiar with cover bands and I must say it was extremely disappointing to find in reality most named cover bands doing a "Millie Vanilli" substituting their live sound with computerised backing tapes. If we wanted that we would have hired actors and a DJ.

When we thought all was lost and we might have to revert back to using a rostered artist we came across your band Revamp late in the evening going off at the Mean Fiddler tavern. After watching for 30mins we knew immediately that Revamp was our band. We approached Michael after the show and booked them immediately.

Revamp played our party and certainly didn't disappoint. On stage their energy, showmanship and musicianship was exceptional. They tailored their show and dressed to suit our theme. Both on and off stage their professionalism was first class.

Our guest list on the night consisted of some major music movers, named artists and the chairman of Warners, certainly not an easy crowd to motivate, impress or encourage to dance. But all these factors did not faze Revamp who just ploughed through the sets and had everyone dancing and singing along. The consensus by all on the night was that Revamp made the evening and were excellent. In fact a senior Warners executive made the comment, 'If Revamp played original music we would sign them immediately'.

I believe I'm qualified to say that Revamp is the absolute best cover band in Sydney without doubt.

I also congratulate you Mr Carlini because if this is the standard of Act you represent and professionalism that you install in your acts, you must be running a very successful operation.

I have no hesitation recommending Revamp to any future clients and I say to them 'do yourself a favour check out Revamp or better still book them', because you won't be disappointed. Warner Music wasn't!

Regards,
